Soldiers of the 2d Brigade:—My term of service has expired and I am about to he separated from you. We have been associated as a Brigade about two years, We have borne in that time, all the burdens, and endured all the trials and hardships of war together. This has made us friends, and such friends as only suffering and toil together can make.

In that time you have shared an eventful part in the great struggle of the age. In Kontucky, Tennessoe and Georgia, you have nobly illustrated the history of your own states, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. That history cannot be written without a record of your calm patience, disciplined courage and heroic daring. The bloody and desperate battle of Thompson Station, and the successful fight at Franklin, Tennessee, gave only proof of your valor; while in the past campaign at Re-nea, Ca-swille, New Hope Church, Galgotha, Culp's Farm, Peach Tree Creek and our present position, Atlanta, you have in the front of the the road and use it. fight, borne straight onward your victorious banner. We part, our hearts glowing with the same patriotic arder, and hereafter when the war is over and the light of home is smiling around you, we will have no proude memories than those associated with this Brigade. Your comrades in arms are sleeping beneath the clods of the valley from the Ohio to Atlanta and from Atlanta to Richmond. Faithful, patient and brave, they have given to their country and their God what mly martyrs and heroes can give, and as one by one they fell out from your clorious ranks they have added new testimony to the sacredness of your cause. "PORTRAITS OF GEORGE AND MARTHA Washington.-Accurate likenesses of the immortal Washington and his consort Martha, are objects which every American would be glad to number among his household treasures. Washington is the great central figure in our nation's history. Hitherto oil portraits of the great and good man have been too costly for the great mass of his countrymen to obtain, while many of the engravings have been so miserably executed, that no one with a decent regard for artistic merit or the illustrious subject would hang them upon his walls. These two obstacles to the possession of faithful pictures of Washington and his partner, however, are now so far removed, that persons of moderate means may secure be utiful copies of celebrated portraits. We allude to Middleton's portrait of Washington in oil colors, from Stuart, a original painting, and a companion portrait of Martha Washington to match, copied from an original by the same distinguished artist. These portraits are produced by a peculiar process, which is comparatively inexpensive, and yet so nice as to rival the original in fidelity of outline and softness of general effect. The original picture from which the copies of Washington are made is in the Boston Athenceum. We consider the liken ess admirable, and the portrait has received the commendation of highly competent judies, bothe nnoisecurs and artists. They are really doo pictures, and would be an ornament to any parker.

We are glad that our citizens now have an opportunity of securing these portraits, which have for some time, caused a pleasant sensation in eastern cities.

AND N. U., Oct. 7 .- To Licut. Gen. AND N. C., Oct. 7.—To Lieut. Gen.

Grant:—At 6:30 a.m.—The enemy having moved Field and Hoke's division from the left, at Chapin's Farm road to our right at Durbytown, we received their attack with Durbytown, we received their attack with the first following the fir Darbytown, we received their attack with spirit on Kautz' cavalry in their entrenchments, and drove them back with a small loss of men but with a loss of his artillery. The enemy suffered considerable loss in this attack. The enemy then swent the an attack, The enemy then swept the entrencements towards Birney who having thrown back his right wing waited their assault and repulsed it with very heavy loss on the part of the enemy. The enemy in the meantime advanced towards New Market but were met by a force at the sig nal tower. At 3 p. m. I took the offensive sending Birney with two divisions up the Darbytown road and the enemy retreated as he alvanced. Birney has reached and occupied the entrenchments which the enemy took from Kautz and were fortifying for themselves. Our loss has been small. We have also ut 100 prisoners.

New York, Oct. S .- At the last exchange of prisoners at Charleston, 70 packages of money, 500 packages of ex-press matter, and 2,000 suits of clothing were delivered to the rebels to be distributed among the Union prisoners who have recently been removed from Andersonville, Gan to the vicinity of Charleston, about 10,000 in all. Some clothing for the robel officers, prisoners on Moore's island, contributed by the Charlestonians, was brought onck by Col. Woodford. It is said that some 800 of the Union prisoners, owing to misrepresentations ando to them by rebels, have, after endu ing 18 months captivity, have taken the ath of allegiance to the Davis' Govern nent, and has been liberated. About halof the number have been put to work in he shops of Charleston, and the other hali tre laboring on Sullivan's Island.

It was reported at Hilton Head that 10,-100 invalid rebel prisoners were to arrive here shortly to be exchanged for a like number of our men. Deserters from Charleston represent the southern people as being much discouraged by the Urion victories. Almost as much uterest is manifested there in our presilential e'ection as 'n the North. Yellow fever is very prevalent in the lity of Charleston.

The News.

There is a variety of interesting news by telegraph to-day, but nothing of startling import.

Gen. Grant arrived at Foriress Monroe on the 6th; en route for Washington.

The rebel papers very reluctantly admit that our forces have gained an important ber of business firms in Belief have onterposition on the north side of the James ed into an engagement, to take no money river, and that their effort to dislodge us, in payment of goods, save greenbacks and cost them 4,000 men. There are lively times on Sherman's communications, and also in Missouri, where the rebels have done some serious damage on the Pacific railroad, destroying a costly bridge over the Gasconade River, and one important one over the Osage, within two miles of Jefferson City. Our afternoon despatches bring news of further severe fighting on the 6th, in front of Butler, in which the rebels were roughly handled.

As the trial of Dodd, in Indiana, pro gresses, the proof grows stronger and stronger against the traitors. It shows you recommended to me. I can truly say that those Copperheads were in full sympathy with the rebels, and that a part of the plan was to secure the election of Jeff Da- lyzed by this distressing complaint, and vis as President of the United States, after sent home from the army, being unable to the South should succeed. Another part of the programme was the assassination of Gov. Morton. The traitors hated Morton in proportion as they feared him, and they regarded his murder as necessary to their success in Indiana. The trial is still in progress, and further important developments may be expected.

P. S .- The track growing too fresh, the fellow has violated his parole and rut assus.

An officer belonging to Gen. GEAST'S Staff, who was present at the battle of Chapin's Farm, informs us that he was much struck with the good conduct of the negro soldiers on that occasion. They went into the fight with the bayonet, doing fine execution. This officer also relates, that after the battle the fortitude displayed by the colored soldiers at the landing, while waiting for boats to arrive and convey them to the hospitals, was most admirable. Gon. Butter has about ton thousand colored troops, and he makes | quisite pain, his acquaintances are sure t it a point to give them equal chances with the white men, according to their proportionate numbers with the white soldiers of his command. A dispatch from FORREST, dated at Athens, Ala., Sept. 28th, and addressed to the rebel Secretary of War, gives the following version of the capture of that place: "My forces captured this place this morning, with thirteen hundred officers and men, fifty wagons and ambulances, five hundred horses, two trains of cars loaded with quartermaster and commissary stores, with a large quantity of small arms and two pieces of artillery. My troops are in fine spirits. My loss is five killed and twenty-ave wounded."

Ho is glad that he himself was not the suffer-Be this as it may it is pretty certain that the suspicion-would it be to much to say the hope?-that our neighbors are not exempt from "cating cares" enable us to bear our own troubles with more equaniimity than if we sorrowed, solus. It is a sad thing to be morbidly irritable, for this is an irritable world, and the man who is thin-skinned is sure to have his tender moral epidermis rubbed down with sandpaper every hour in the day. The moment society finds out that a particular individual is sensitive and easily annoyed, it begins to bait him, just as reckless bys poster a staggering drunkard in the street. If he has an especially sore spot, that cannot be abraded without causing him exfind it out and to "touch him on the raw" as frequently as possible. People who fret and fume over every petty grievances, who take harmless jokes as insults, and are continually grouning and worrying over fancied wrongs or triffing disappointments, are great buisances. There is but one cure for them that we know of, and that is a real calamity. We once knew a chronic grumpler who was entirely cured by a empound fracture of the thigh. It is pos sible, on the other thand, to be too "good natured." Your very acquiescent "O, yes -certainly" sort often agree to much that it is their duty to oppose. NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Richmond Examiner of the 4th, in a long review of the recent advance upon that city by Grant in the north side of the James, evinces the reatest anxiety concerning the situation, and bewails the loss of nattery Harrison, the works captured by our forces and held afterwards against several desperate at-tacks by the rebels in which their losses were heavy. It concludes as follows: "Let treops be brought to Virginia from anywhere, for Virginia is the pillar of the Confederacy. At present the lines are sccure, but their safety cannot be fairly left

Constitutionalist contains some farther information in reference to the position of Hood's army. The movements commenced on the 19th uit., and Hood's forces are said to be now entrenched on the Macon and West Point road, 20, or 25 miles from their location near Jonesboro. Gov. Brown of Gu. has made a statement regarding the reported peace negotiations between himself and Gen. Sherman. He says that Gen Sherman sent a proposal to him through a private messenger to visit Atlanta and confer in reference to the withdrawal of Ga. from the Confederacy, but that the offer was rejected, and the reply returned that the faith of Ga. is pledged to her southern sisters States, and that she will not act in such affairs without concert with them.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

WAR DEPARTMENT WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 -To Maj. Gen. Dix; -This department has received the following report of the enemy's assault vestorday on Gen. But-ler's line, and their subsequent repulse, and Gen. Birney's brilliant action, driving the enemy to their inner entrenchments around Richmond. HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF VA.

AND N. C., Oct. 7.—To Licut. Gen. Grant:—At 6:30 A.M.—The enemy having moved Field and Hoke's division from the left, at Chapin's Farm road to our right at Darbytown, we received their attack with spirit on Kautz' cavalry in their cutrenchments, and drove them back with a small loss of men but with a loss of his artillery. The enemy suffered considerable loss in this attack. The enemy then swept the entrencements towards Birney who having thrown back his right wing waited their assault and repulsed it with very heavy loss on the part of the enemy, The enemy n the meantime advanced towards New Market but were met by a force at the sig nal tower. . At 3 p. m. I took the offensive sending Birney with two divisions up the Darbytown road and the enemy retreated as he advanced. Birney has reached and occupied the entrenchments which the suemy took from Kautz and were fortifying for themselves, Our loss has been small. We have about 100 prisoners.

BFBUTLER. (Signed) Major General,

The Herald's 10th corps corre pondent of the 5th, says we have repulsed the atrack of the enemy on our right flank with great slaughter. The troops seem to be Field's and Pickens' Divisions. I send you a batch of prisoners, and I am extending my right flank. The enemy seem to be entrenching on the Darby road.
[signed] D. B. BIRNEY, Maj. Gen.

HEADQUARTERS, DEP'T OF VA. AND N. C. Oct. 7, 3 p. m.—Lt. Gen. Grant: Birney has regained Kautz's old position, and holds the enemy in the inner line of entrenchments around Richmond, extending from Darby town road to connect with Weitzel on the left near Fort Harrison. There has been no movement at Peters burg to-day. We have much the best of this day's work. 1,000 at least of the enemy are killed and wounded, 100 prisonors, and a bloody repulse. Gen. Gregg. commanding Field's Div., is reported by a lady who saw the body, as killed.

[signed] B. F. BUTLMR, Maj. Gen. No dispatches have been received from the commands of Gen. Resecrans or Sheridan later than were reported in my telegram of yesterday. E. M. STANTON.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. S .- At the last exchange of prisoners at Charleston, 70 packages of money, 500 packages of express matter, and 2,000 suits of clothing were delivered to the rebels to be distributed. ted among the Union prisoners who have recently been removed from Audersonville, Ga., to the vicinity of Charleston, about 10,000 in all. Some clothing for the rebel fficers, prisoners on Moore's island, contributed by the Charlestonians, was brought back by Col. Woodford.

It is said that some 800 of the Union prisoners, owing to misrepresentations made to them by rebets, have, after endu ing 18 months captivity, have taken the ath of allegiance to the Davis' Government, and has been liberated. About hal of the number have been put to work in he shops of Charleston, and the other hal tre laboring on Sullivan's Island.

It was reported at Hilton Head that 10, 100 invalid rebel prisoners were to arriv here shortly to be exchanged for a like number of our men.

Descrices from Charleston represent the southern people as being much discouraged by the Union victorios. Almost as much nterest is manifested there in our presilential a ection as 'n the North. Yellow fever is very prevalent in the ity of Char est n.

The thinking and unblased portion of the community will appreciate the great advantage of a pormanent and cellable dustitute for the cure of chronic diseases that anally halfe the skill of the general practitioner.

Outarch, that great promoting cause of Consumption in the Northwest, always gives way upon application of the now remedics. Dr. Hale has never encountered a case of this disease he could not cure. The present session is very favorable for applying proper remedies; delays are dangerous. Your case may be cared this month, actner, to-day, not to-morrow.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. Hale makes a speciality in treating, whetiid at least all and investigate the new system for themselves. No person of good sense and seound indegment will, without full and careful investigation, denounce as "humbug" that which claims to possess merit.

"Shall I boil you a couple of fresh eggs for supper, Peter?" "Yes, dear, if you please."

How the wife's poor heart, which fo vears had lain almost dead in her bosom, lcaped with a joyous impulse? What a light flashed over her countenance; making it beautiful as of old, in the face of her husband. "Yes, dear, if you please." Not even in the voice of Grisi or Diana, would her ears have found such sweet At the supper table, Peter Urandall praised the coffee and fried potatoes, and

THE VALUE OF ACCURACY .- It is the result of every day's experience, that steady attention to matters of detail lies at the root of human progress: and that diligence above all, is the mother of good luck. Accuracy is also of much importance, and an invariable mark of good training in a man. Accuracy in observation, accuracy in speech, accuracy in the transaction of affairs. What is done in business must be well done; for it is better to accomplish perfectly a small amount of work, than to iall do ten times as much. A wise man used to sny, "Stay a little, that we may make an end the sooner." Too little at-tention, however, is paid to this highly important quality of accuracy. As a man eminent in practical science lately observed to us, "it is astonishing how few people I have met in the course of my experience who can define a fact accurately." Yet, in business affairs, it is the manner in which even small matters are transacted, that often decide men for or against you. Demolished.

A correspondent of the Madison Betrief writing from Ft. Atkinson, in reference to the joint discussion at that place between Messrs, I. C. Sloan and Goo, B. Smith, says Mr. S. "has the worst side and less ability to advocate it." The writer furthermore says.

"Mr. Sloan spoke well, and was listened to with attention. In the course of his speech he several times declared that the emocratic platform asserted that the war had been a failure. He sought to make a strong point against the platform and party For that reason."

But Mr. Smith followed him and knocked the socks clean off his opponent, according to the writer, by showing the fallacy of his assertion, and quoting the words of the democratic platform as follows (

"That this convention does explicitly do clare, as the sense of the American people, that, after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war,"

What obcusenoss on the part of Mr. Sloan, not to see that in the above septence recollect that they are elamoring for ried in proof of his declaration; and workpeace on any terms" because they doom peace on any terms because they doom home, and keeping her as far above want as a success?" If Mr. S. failed to see as it was possible for him to do—Mr. Cranthese things, he must have been wholly dail saw no reason why he should be aldemolished on the argument! Just hear what the editor of the Patriot has to say on the subject, and if you had any doubts before, let them all vanish now:

"The difference between asserting that the 'war has been a failure,' and that the 'experiment of war has failed to restore the Union,' is so manifest and palpable, that we are amazed that any man of any sense should suffer it to escape his ob-

"Mr. Sloan although not destitute of might show him-no matter what she ability, is no match for Mr. Smith. In the prepared for his return, nor with what next place, the cause the former represents is weak, dreadfully weak. The burthen of such a cause is sufficient to drag a giant to the earth."

Mr. Sloan will undoubtedly be pleased to learn that he is "not destitute of ability," and will probably take an early opporcunity to abandon the Union cause, be cause it "is weak, dreadfully weak."

The brass of these copperheads is only equalled by their treachery to the Union and to free institutions.

She inclined to fretfulness and impatience; and ften scolded the children when her husband could see little in them to blame.

The Crandalls were poor. Mr. Cran dall was a mechanic and carned only me chanic's wages. Mrs. Crandall was the mother of five children, the oldest of them thirteen years old; but their narrow income left nothing to spare for the hire of a domestic, so all the work fell upon her. She was foil-worn and toil-weary at the dying of each day; and the same, though not to an equal extent, might be said of her husband. He had more strength for his work, and therefore he could endure greater fatigue. He had the advantage, which was causes of nervous excitement, and the inwitchle exhaustion that followed. He to perpetual and annoying interruptions, incident to her position of mother and house-keeper. Between Toter Crandall and his wife there did not seem to exist unich affection. They never spoke loving words, nor manifested exception rare occasions, any pleasures at meeting or any mutual interest. The little courtesies of life were something unknown in their cheerless dwelling Rude, hoisterous, quarrelsome the childen grew up, bringing discord into the house that was uncomfortable enough. without that disagreeable inmate. The niother scolded and punished in anger: but saw no good results of her dicipline. The father scolded in concert but alway left an unpleasant sensation afterward as the had been doing something wrong. And so the years went on, and the sun beams came not across the threshold into their dweiling. Occasionally Mr. Cran-dall obtained a brief, glauce into some other homes, and as the pleasant vision passed, a sigh, would disturb his hason. ight and warmth were there.

Something was avrong in his own hone; that he had felt for a great white—and he did not wholly blame his wife. But the exact location of the wrong he could never clearly perceive. In the beginning it was different. Then there was a warmth in his heart and sunshine in the face of his wife. But it was in his memory, marked day after day as a dial records the advancng shadow; how the brightness of her ace diminished stemply until it was colips Ah! if he had dreamed of the cause!

But Mr. Crandall was not the man who looked inward upon his own life—not the man who considered his actions to their effect upon others. He was more a sileut, undemonstrative man, rarely expressing his feelings. He give few outward signs by which any one could read his heart. Here lay the origin of his trouble at home -the boginning of the eclipse that left this world almost in total darkness, when it should have been noonday. It was not onough for Mrs. Crandall in the earlier years of their woulded life, to know, that the democracy intended to say that the war her busbond loved her. As Mrs. Crandall began to fail in outward signs of affection, Poter porceived their withdrawal on the gradual fading of sunshine, when clouds gather ever the flimsy veils that deepen into obscure curtains. But the cause to him was a mystery. He felt as of old to his wife, and worked as cheerfully as in the beginning. The home feeling was as strong as ever; and after withdrawing from the outer world, when the night shadows fell, he had not the beginning of a desire to go abroad from his sanctuary, shorn, as it was, of a at her husband, Mrs. Crandall after, see ing Jane move with pleasing alacrity about the table, went into the kitchen and soon all was ready. Quite enough to sat-isfy the appetite had Mrs. Crandall prepared; but her thoughts turned upon something else—something that would give her the opportunity to ask him if she should not get it for supper. "Yes, deer." How she was longing for the words intered in the gentle, loving way they had a little while before been spoken but for her ears alone. At last she turned from the fire, and going to the door of the room, said very kindly: "Shall I boil you a couple of fresh eggs for supper, Peter?"

"Xes, dear, if you please."
How the wife's poor beart, which for rears had lain almost dead in her bosom, caped with a joyous impulse? What a light flashed over her countenance: make ing it beautiful as of old, in the face of her husband. "Yes, dear, if you please." Not even in the voice of Grisi of Diana, would her ears have found such sweet music. At the supper table, Peter Crandall praised the codee and fried potatoes, and said the eggs were just what he wanted. Mrs. Crandall looked happy, and washappy. With the vanishing of their father's usual silence, and their mother's sour looks and fretful tones, the children's spirits changing as the chameleon, and taking the line of things around them, rose into he received the handkerchief with as polite | new, better and happion states. Contention ceased; and there was something like an emulation of kind offices among them,

> Suddenly the eyes of Mr. Cranuali open ed. Even while he was wondering at the magical change produced by a few kind words, a full revolution of the truth came

> Though turned once in the right direct ion-Peter Crandall pondered this new fact in his inner life history—the magio of words-and going back to the very beginning, reviewing his own conduct towards his wife and family, almost day by day; up to the evening when by the power of almost a single word, the whole scene changed, and quite as suddenly as we see it, sometimes, in a pantemime. He saw his error—saw how unjust he had been : and cold and even cruel in his coldness. Very carefully did he guard himself afterwards; and very prompt was he in observing all the little social courtesies towards his wife and children which are so beautiful to see and so sweet in all their influences. The green things flourished again in the heart of his wife, and the flowers bloomed there as of old. The children learned to emulate the kind words and courteous acknowledgments for all little services, that soon became a habit with their father and moth er; and into kind words spoken, kind feel ing soon followed. It was the beginning of a new order of things in the home of Peter Crandall; where in good time, the desert bloomed as the rose.

Words appear as little things in them selves but have great power. The magic of kind words is wonderful! Try them, yo silent Peter Grandells, who have fretful wives and contentions children. Try the effect of a little wholosome praise to your tired, unhappy, overworked companion, and see if it doesn't brighten her pale face as if a flood of sunbeams had been poured upon it. Try it with your child, and if you have in you the heart of a true man. you will be so pleased with the effect that you will keep on trying until you will scarcely recognize your own household.

THE VALUE OF ACCURACY .- It is the resuit of every day's experience, that steady attention to matters of detail lies at the root of human progress: and that diligence above all, is the mother of good luck. There is provision, also, in the heart of God, for every miserable creature that has errod: and thousands there are that curse and blaspheme with remorse in hos pitals, or in lazar-houses, or in tho midst of vermin and filth at the bottom of socie-ty. All this takes place though God, who directions takes place though nature is ordained to promote happiness; all this takes place though the structure of society and the structure of individual men are designed to promote happiness. takes place though God's government is for the promotion of happiness; all this takes place though the interior nature of God and his overlasting decree aim at happiness. And yet, men are found who, co-operate, and bring himself under the influence of remedial law.—Beecher. STRETCH IT A LITTLE.—A ittle girl and THE LIBERAL PATRONAGE grocer's the other morning. The roofs of bestowed upon this institution, and the just appreciation houses and the grass on the common her little brother were on their were white with frost, and the wind was sharp. They were both poorly clad, but with these facts staring them in the face, rise up and say, "God is too good to punish men!" Why, there never was an assertion so flung in the face of facts. The administration of God is full of goodness;

but goodness in the divine administration is employed according to law. All philanthropy, all humanity, and all sympathy and succor, carried down to grog-shops and to the Five Points, will not assuage one pang, and will not rescue one wretch, unless he is willing to return and the little girl had a coat over her which she seemed to have outgrown. As they walked briskly along she drew her little companion close up to her saying:

"Come under my coat, Johnny."
"It isn't big enough for both," was his reply.

"I guess I can stretch it a little," she

And they got us close together and us warm as two birds in the nest.

How many shivering bodies, heavy hearts and weeping eyes there are in this world just because people do not stretch their comforts a little beyond themselves. —Child's World.

When a man is bear, by the whole stress of his nature, to do wickedly, do you suppose that Satan will take the treable to work upon him? Time is too precious on his hands. Some men are monstrous liars, and they plend that Satur tempts them to lie. They do not need any temptation to lie. If the wood be green, we use the bellows; but if the wood-be dry and inflammable, a spark ignites it, and a man would be foolish indeed that should use a bellows to blow it then. If a man wants to sin, and has the habit of sinning, and lovessin, and will sin, and will not be hindered from sinning, do not say that the devil tempted him. The devil has enough to unswer for without being made the scape-goat of the universe, and without our packing upon him all the sins of our own procuring.

STOCKS OF GOODS and personal property have increased in value from two to three supposed method to this suppose of all discusses of the hundred per cent., since 1862. Have you (nerensed your insurance in proportion?) It costs double to build now, over and above what it did in 1862. You may well ask, am I insured? and if so, am I in the companies that are able to stand up against the breakers that are just ahead? Look out for squalls about these days. Grant, Sherman & Co., are likely to injure the squall fry. Dimock, at Insurance Headquarters, Lappin's block Janesville, Wis., has the sound Old Companies that have been through the wars before. To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.-For the last time, I hereby give notice that all notes and accounts due me must be paid at once. I have made this request several times before. From a good many I have not even received regrets. If any of my cus tomors think that I have not waited long enough, I shall with differ them without making any words. A settlement I will have. The greenbacks or a judgment is the only way it can be settled.

Br. Jackson—Deer N.C.: I feel it due to your excellent preparation, Rechand's German Elitera to add my testimenty to the deserved reputation it has obtained. I have for year, at times, been transled with great disorder in my head and nervous system. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your German Bitters. I did so, and have emperienced errect and on-superied reself: my health has been very materially funcflitted. I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been a tard by many of their good effect.
